A Lost Child Perishing in the Woods.

About a fortnight ago, a bright little girl, six years of age, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. King, living about 4 miles from Kalida, Putaccompanied the neighbor's children to carry water to the father working in a field. On the way, some childish quarrel occurred between them, and their visitor, vexed and grieved, started to return to the house, which was in view. Probably reflecting more upon the wound which her feelings had received than of the path she was following, she strayed away into the woods and was lost. The other children returned in due season, but Mrs. King was only surprised that her child was not with them.

Search was immediately commenced, but when night came, and the little one was not found, the anxiety of the mother became terrible. The search was continued the next day and the next, without success. The whole neighborhood was aroused, and the people of the county, to the number of five hundred perday, generously volunteered their services and traversed the woods, and the forest rang with their alarm night and day, in search of the lost child. For nine days the search was continued amid the utmost excitement, and without cessation, during which time the soul harrowing suspense of the parents, and especially the mother, was indiscribable and she would neither rest nor refresh herself. She still hoped, against hope itself, as each succeeding day

On the ninth day the little one was found, lying over two logs-where it had fallen, took weak to proceed, within two miles of the spot where it was last seen -dead. It had removed all its clothing, and when found was quite naked, its bonnet hanging on a limb, and its dress lying in a little play house which she had built to while away the lonely hours. It had died within a few hours of the time at which it was found. The spot had frequently been passed, but the most of the search had been extended too far. When the dead body of the child was taken into the presence of the mother, and the hope which had sustained her throughout the search was gone, her reason tottered and she became insane. - Columbia Ohio Statesman.

Henry Clay's Sentiments. The adjoined is an extract from a speech which Henry Clay delivered at Frankfort, Kentucky, on the 25th of November, 1850. If the agitation in regard to the fugitive-slave-law should continue and increase, and become alarming, it will tend to the formation of two new parties-one for the Union. parties have been created by the division of opinions as regard systems of national policy. id as to finance, free trade, or protection, distribution of the proceeds of the public lands, &c.; but these systems of policy, springing out of the administration of the Government of the Union, lose all their interest and importance if that Union is to be dissolved. They sink into utter insignificance before the all-important, pervasive, and paramount interest of the Union itself; and the Platform of that Union party will be the Union, the Constitution, and the emforcement of its laws; and if should be necessary to form such a party, and it should be accordingly formed, I announce myself as a member of that party, whatever may be its component elements. Sir. I go further. I have had great hopes and confidence in the principles of the whig party, as being most likely to conduce to the honor, the prosperity, and the glory of my country; but if it is to be merged into a contemptible abolition party, and if abolitionism is on the whig creed, from that moment I renounce the party and cease to be a whig."

This shows the estimation in which the Union was held by the great CLAY. And it is proper to be mentioned, that in the effort now being made to revive and re-organize 5th year of his age, and had been but a few practically, the Whig party, the principles he enunciated are those which will make its platform-" The Union-the constitution, and the enforcement of its laws."

Suspicions have long been abroad that large sums are constantly abstracted from the public purse by means of fraudulent, forced, or stretched vouchers, and some of them are now being verified. Fabulous sums are demanded and avouched for under heads of clerk hire, copying, translating, &c., which are evidently intended to cover expenses for wines, dinners, horse hire, &c., not auditable. The president is determined to hold all officers' accounts to the strictest scrutiny, and where frauds are attempted, to reject the claims and prosecute the offenders. Proofs accumulate in various cases not mentionable. This process is to be retro-active, and occasions many absentees amongst those who have had accounts adjusted during the reign of the present administration. The President has been importuned in vain. He blandly informs his friends that he doubts not they will get all they are entitled to, but does not interfere with the duties of the auditors.

From Washington.

The Navy Department yesterday received the rumor of the loss of the United States frigate Congress is without foundation.

The President has appointed Daniel Newvice R. B. Metealf resigned, to take effect Sept. 30, 1859. Despatches have been received at the Navy Department from the U. S. sloop-of-war

Saratoga, dated off Vera Cruz, the 13th inst. The sick list of the ship was slowly increasing, but the captain hoped by careful attention, to avoid an increase, although it was in the suit of Adams vs. Marshall, the undersigned tion, to avoid an increase, although it was the midst of the sickly season. The Smithsonian Institution received by mail to-day, a parcel, which, on taking off considerably flattened. On opening it, however, two thriving specimens of the curious animal known as the Texas horned frog were discovered. These fellows came all the way from Hantsville, Texas, quite comfortably in Uncle Sam's mail bag, without food or water .- Wash. Star of yesterday af-

AUCTION SALES.

FINE TRACT OF LOUDOUN LAND FOR A SALE -By virtue of the authority vested in us by the will of the late Humphrey B. Prince Wm. county, jy 18—cots PARM FOR SALE.—The undersigned wishes to sell his FARM, in the county of Prince William, on the road leading from Aldie, in Loumonths, with interest from date; and approved down county, to Haymarket, in Prince William, security required. All sums under ten dollars, and equi-distant from those places. It contains 384 ACRES, is well wooded and watered, and it divided into five fields. The soil is good, and well adapted to the growth of wheat, corn, and grass. Every field is now in grass, the most of it very fine—and having had no stock on any of the fields this season, a large portion of the grass would now do to mow. It is considered one of the best Farms in the county, and its fertile soil, pleasant location, (as to neighborhood, society, &c.,) and nearness to railroad, make it one of the most desirable to be found anywhere.

It has on it no Buildings, but the undersigned contemplates erecting thereon suitable and comfortable buildings immediately. He prefers, how ever, selling before building, in which case, he will make such abatement in price, as will corres-pond with the cost of the buildings.

Its remoteness from the residence of the undersigned makes it inconvenient for him to give it his personal attention, and he therefore prefers to sell He particularly invites those wishing to buy land to examine this farm, feeling confident, it will recommend itself more highly than a newspaper ad vertisement can do.

My brother, Josiah P. Carter, who resides on the adjoining farm, will show the premises to any who may call, or a letter addressed to me, at my Post office, Salem, Fauquier county, Virginia, will receive attention. The terms will be made accommodating, and it desired, a long credit will be given on a large por
